From the Farm

This past week, we thank our grown kids for putting the boxes out. We both had out-of-town meetings with our 'other jobs'. We did manage to plant some of the last remaining transplants—lettuce and bok choy with the hope we can keep them going out in the boxes through October. This week, you will find tatsoi, bok choy, a new mustard green type tatsoi, and kale---nice greens to use for salad in place of lettuce.

What's in the Box?

| | | |
|----------------------------|------------------------|-------------|
| French Fingerling Potatoes | Salad Turnips/Radishes | Dry Onions |
| Tatsoi/Mustard Greens | Tomatoes | Broccoli |
| Bok Choy | Sweet peppers | Green Beans |
| Kale | Hot peppers | Tomatillos |
| Cucumbers | Parsley | Garlic |
| Corn | Green onions | |

Hot peppers this week – Georgia flame (larger red); Chenzo; Pasillo bajio (mild); Red cayenne (medium)

French fingerling potatoes – we rubbed a little olive oil on them and roasted them whole with skins on at 400 degrees with a sprinkle of salt and a little rosemary. We added strips of sweet and hot peppers and quartered onions—all coated with a little olive oil as well. While the veggies roasted in the oven, we 'fried' salmon patties and made a green salad. Dinner served in 40 minutes. Yum.

Thank you for returning your box on the next delivery day.
