From the Farm

The first of week of The Evergreen State College's Bush Homestead archeology dig is complete. Here is a link to more information and dates and times of tours <http://blogs.evergreen.edu/bushhomestead/>. They have already found a 'closed' site which means a place that has not been tilled. We are pleased to introduce corn this week. The first ears are smaller, but still sweet and tasty! The pole beans are in full swing and we finally have a broccoli crop with larger heads. Enjoy☺

What's For Dinner?

We have been grilling EVERY night with this great weather. So, tonight we had a grilled veggie dinner. We grilled zucchini, sweet peppers, and garlic (and we snuck in some Walla Walla sweets from the grocery store). Oh, and we threw in the stems of the bok choy, too. We tossed all of the veggies with thyme and olive oil and used a vegetable grill pan to lay the veggies flat for an even grill experience. I keep raw frozen shrimp on hand which is easily thawed in cold water. We make a space in the grill pan after the veggies have been on for about 8 minutes and add the shrimp. When they are pink, we top with shredded Italian mixed cheese and fresh chopped basil. YUM!!!!!!

Take a look at www.bushprairiefarm.com under the CSA tab for pictures of the vegetables in this week's box.

Thank you for returning your empty box on next week's delivery day.
